SIMS: 'Super Intelligence Simulations' is the new Criminal Justice 'game' from Parker & Lane. As a reinterpretation of the modern German public prosecution system, 'The SIMS' grips the player in its hands. Let's see what happens: a lawyer is sent to 'Urban Life' to collect the evidence. The player has three choices:

- Cite: used to cite 'Urban Life'. For example, to 'idling' near a kindergarten, or to making petty theft in high-street fashion, a movement can be considered as a Cite.

What's new in Social Club VR : Casino Nights:

Chris Tuffley, owner of Tuffley's in Main Street, Gloucester, and his wife, Emily, live in one room of the building and occupy only a tiny quarter of the space. They make regular use of their garden, where they have planted the majority of their flower bulbs, such as daffodils and crocuses. This is a short story about the Tuffleys which is taut with excitement. Read on to find out what happened to them after they found their 'Message in a Bottle', in 1991! Birth day Party On the afternoon of Emily's birthday party the Tuffleys went out at around 4.30pm with their son and dog "Karen" to the local post office. The child headed home with the 'mail' and the dog rushed to the street corner onto which another letter had been posted, the post girl said: "Happy Birthday Emily!" The Tuffleys were thrilled. The next morning one of the children shouted, "Mummy, look there are more mailings", the Tuffleys rushed out to see an envelope had been posted which said: "Daddy, Daughter & Friend Love Karl, Bogey & Emily" The Tuffleys were shocked. Some while later one of the children shouted, "Mummy, look there are more mailings" and once again the Tuffleys rushed outside to find another envelope which said: "Darling Emily, I Love you & Karl, Bogey, Hugo & Craig. Peter! Love you and all the children" A rush of emotions descended upon the Tuffleys as they contemplated what they should do; how they should tell the children that a total stranger from the West Country had got in touch with them years ago and is still thinking about them. It felt like a job to get on with but they were glad to be able to shower the children with joy. Sixties The Tuffleys went away for the weekend to a nearby town for a drink and to do some baking. Emily and Karl had been friends with a couple of other couples when they were students, for a while and they'd maintained contact all these years. One of the couples had been in the same class with the Tuffleys and Emily had loved and idolised them. As Karl drove the Tuffleys through a narrow country lane and the back of his Citroen came into view they saw two
