The player models and animations have been refined and upgraded, reflecting player improvements in match preparation, fitness and training regimes. The artificial intelligence (AI) system has also been developed to match and exceed players from FIFA 21. FIFA 22 Ultimate Team has been completely redesigned, offering a number of improvements across gameplay, content, and Ultimate Team functionality. The number of cards available and types of cards available has been expanded. The number of Skills on the transfer market has been reduced; overall gameplay speed has also been speeded up. FIFA 22 Ultimate Team Mode brings an increased level of realism and depth to the transfer market. Now you can trade in your favourite player from earlier games for a similarly rated player from this season and have your team reflect your new additions. You can now also earn Experience Points (XP) and Coins, the latter of which can be used to buy the likes of popular future stars. This is made easier with a new "My Team" function which allows you to customise your Ultimate Team based on your own current star ratings and ambitions. And all of the completed transfer offers will be ranked, which gives you a chance to see the most expensive completed transfers. A number of improvements have also been made to the FUT Draft Tool, allowing you to manipulate existing players, instantly create your draft team and export a list of buyable players for use in the real-life version of the FUT Draft mode. "When we started development for this game, our vision was to make FIFA as realistic as we could," said Marc Petty, Creative Director at EA SPORTS. "With FIFA 22, we've updated and improved all of the gameplay, animations, player models, AI, stadiums and Ultimate Team gameplay. These changes will be immediately visible in the enhanced gameplay and enhanced visuals, which will be available today, and the depth and realism that is added to the gameplay will help to set the bar for the next-gen console releases." Added Gold Fortune, a new goal-based feature which allows you to earn free, earned or gifted items in FUT transactions. The more items you unlock, the more free stuff you earn from all future transactions. You can earn unlocked items when you purchase Rare, Elite or Special cards through FUT Draft or FUT Market.
